

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Sept. 14, 2023

Estimated Reading Time (Average Reader): 1m 0s

Sun Prairie Utility Manager Earns Leadership Certification

Sheboygan, Wis. — Sun Prairie Utility Manager Rick Wicklund received recognition on Sept. 14 during the WPPI Energy Annual Meeting in Sheboygan. Sun Prairie Utilities, the locally owned, not-for-profit water and electric utility, is a member-owner of WPPI Energy, a joint action agency and wholesale power provider.

Wicklund received recognition for completing the Joint Action Leadership Certification program, a multi-year curriculum that helps utility leaders deepen their knowledge of the joint action model, enhances unity among WPPI Energy members, and promotes member engagement.

“Rick is a valued staff member, and this step is just one of the ways he is driven to help make the utility better,” said Dave Euclide, Customer Service Manager of Sun Prairie Utilities. “I am certain Rick will use this broader knowledge to make our community a better place to work and live.”

Sun Prairie Utilities is a municipally owned, not-for-profit electric and water utility serving roughly 36,000 customers. Founded in 1910, the utility is one of 51 members of WPPI Energy.

Photo: Sun Prairie Utility Manager Rick Wicklund, center, stands with WPPI Energy Board Chair Jim Stawicki, left, and President and CEO Mike Peters after being recognized as a Joint Action Leadership Certification program graduate Sept. 14 during the WPPI Energy Annual Meeting in Sheboygan.

#

Contact:
Bridget Cooke
bcooke@wppienergy.org